3 Councilmen To Be Named In April

Successor To Lieut. Carter Will Likely Be Appointed At Meeting Tonight

Paul Carter's retirement from the city council which became automatic with his acceptance of a commission in the Navy, reminded Sierra Madreans that they will be called upon to elect three members of the council at the April election this year. Carter's term of office would have expired at that time, along with those of Councilmen Thomas Miller and Thomas Schwartz.

Carter had intended to be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Miller is said to have been undecided about his plans, but since the elimination of Carter to have made up his mind to become a candidate again. Mr. Schwartz is sure to be a candidate.

A meeting of the council will be held tonight to decide whether to fill Carter's place by appointment of the remaining members, or allow the seat to remain vacant until the people elect a successor in April. The extreme probability is that they will proceed at once to an appointment so that three sitting members would join in a campaign for election in April. Mayor Schiltz and John Froehlich have yet two years of their four year terms to serve.

The names of half a dozen well known citizens have been mentioned as probable independent candidates, with the likelihood that if one or two of them decide to enter the contest they will have the support of the Citizens Committee which recently conducted an inquiry into the conduct of municipal affairs and made a number of recommendations.

Mobile Blood Bank Will Come Here If 100 Volunteer Aid

Mobile units which will collect blood for the Red Cross Blood Bank in any community where there are 100 volunteers are now going into operation in Southern California according to Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard, vice-chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter. One of these units would be available here at any time should the required number of citizens volunteer to give a pint of blood. For the present, however, those who register at local Red Cross Headquarters will be taken in groups to the Blood Bank in Los Angeles. Dr. Pritchard will make an appointment for volunteers going here so that no delay will be necessary.

Temperatures Rise; Spring In The Air

While everyone still wondering whether the ground hog saw his shadow, indications that spring is here were visible about town this week. Temperatures were moderate and rising. For the week they have been:

Jan. 29	71	38
Jan. 30	70	39
Jan. 31	74	40
Feb. 1	75	42
Feb. 2	74	43
Feb. 3	70	45
Feb. 4	73	41

City's Tire Quota For February Is Plenty Small

Two obsolete size tires were issued to Hazel Skinner and one obsolete size tire and tube to William S. Oakley during the period from January 22 to 31, according to the most recent report of the local Rationing Board.

Quota established here for February will permit accredited buyers to purchase five tires and four tubes for passenger cars and three tires and six tubes to be used on trucks or busses. Further study of rationing restrictions places most of the city trucks on the accredited list.

All unconsumed quota are cancelled at the end of the month for which they were designated and may not be carried over into the succeeding month.

Looking forward to the rationing of retreats which is expected to begin shortly, and other items which will be added to the list of restricted products, Paul Barksdale d'Orr has advised all boards to appoint alternate members to be chosen with the provision that they have "no personal, political or group axes to grind." Members appointed here accordingly were Joseph Weber, R. L. Fitzwilliam, and S. A. Cowart.

Leave Of Absence Causes Shift In The Police Force

The city council has granted Policeman Albert Bray a six months leave of absence, effective February 7, so that he may take a job with a steel company. Craig McLaughlin will fill the vacancy and Arthur M. Udell will be employed as part time officer, a position now held by McLaughlin.

Diplomas For Many At The Pasa. Schools

Sierra Madre Graduates Assigned Important Roles At Commencements

Commencement exercises for upper division students at Pasadena Junior College will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Saxon Hall, East Campus, with Mary Kathleen Pulling and Lawrence Bowden of this city among those receiving diplomas.

There will be no formal commencement for lower division graduates among whom will be Donald Keys, Chloe Knapp, Esther Richter, John Shippey and Vivian Weber.

At Wilson Junior High School diplomas will be awarded at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, to the following Sierra Madre students: Loyola Marie Belmar, Jean Alice Brooks, Tim E. Brown, Phyllis Jean Buchan, Bert Embree, Robert Fletcher, Martin R. Goldberg, Willos Hill, Robert Knapp, Janet Lewis, Ann Moore, Walter Nollac, Thomas A. Schwartz, Lyle Clyde Stewart, Hubert Tuttle, Martin Valasquez and Ted Valasquez.

Orrilla Daggett, 10-2 class president, will preside. The Processional March from "Aida" will open the ceremonies, then will follow the Presentation of the Flag, the Flag Salute and the singing of "God Bless America" by the class. Martin Goldberg will give the "Farewell to the School," and Colleen Moberly, 10-1 student, the "Response."

Charging the class with responsibilities which lie ahead, G. N. Boone, principal, will give an address, "Onward from Wilson." "The Old Oaks of Wilson," commencement song, will close the exercises.

Sierra Madre students receiving honor citations in acknowledgment of their service and scholarship records at the class day assembly in Willard Auditorium today will be Phyllis Buchan, for A and B grades; Bert Embree, Martin Goldberg, Walter Nollac, Willos Hill, Robert Knapp and Lyle Stewart for services on the school safety force, and for outstanding service in other fields, Phyllis Buchan, Martin Goldberg, Walter Nollac and Ted Valasquez.

Tire Rationing Ups Patronage On PE's Sierra Madre Line

Passenger traffic on the Sierra Madre line of the Pacific Electric Railway has increased by approximately 25 percent since tire rationing began, it was revealed yesterday by the company's traffic department. In consequence another car has been put into service leaving the station in Los Angeles at 4:58, while the 6 o'clock train now carries two cars.

Citizens and organizations protesting the proposed 10 percent increase in P.E. fares, contend that this increase in traffic will greatly improve the company's returns and that therefore it is not entitled to any emergency "upping" of transportation rates.

At a hearing on the fare boost proposal before the State Railroad Commission this week it was testified that there had been a general increase of passengers on the P.E. lines of 23.7 per cent during the first week in January, and a slightly smaller increase during subsequent weeks.

Fill Vacancy On The Teaching Staff At Grammar School

Taking the place of David Larsen, who recently resigned from his position as teacher at the grammar school to enlist with the Army, Arthur Elliott is now teaching the 8th grade and shop work at the school.

Mr. Elliott comes from North American Aircraft Co., where he was employed in the metal plant. He is a native of Compton, graduate of Occidental College and has taken graduate work in industrial arts at UCLA. He was formerly employed by the Curtis Publishing Company. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are maintaining their residence in Hollywood.

Appointments Complete Committee Of Emergency Medical Service

Dr. W. B. Heagerty, head of the Disaster Committee of the Red Cross and chief of the emergency medical staff of the Civilian Defense Council, this week announced completion of his committee with the appointment of R. C. Lewis to the executive office of the emergency medical service, and Mrs. Carlin G. Smith as assistant and liaison officer.

Dr. Heagerty also stated that Commander C. E. Rappolee is now setting up an immobile first aid post in the fire department building in the Sierra Madre Canyon where nurses, two first aid squads and rescue squads will function in an emergency.

"As many of the Red Cross sub-committees and their work are duplicated in the Civilian Defense, it was thought advisable to only ask for organization of such sub-committees as would have scope to carry on the regular Red Cross work, and at the time of disaster to offer the services of these sub-committees in the name of the Red Cross, to the director of the Civilian Defense Board of Sierra Madre," Dr. Heagerty said in announcing the completion of his committees. In accordance with this plan sub-committees now organized and able to function as Red Cross Units are, food and canteen, Mrs. H. C. Lieben; housing and shelter, Rev. Fred Grottesma; disaster and first aid supplies, Mrs. E. R. Thompson.

RED CROSS STOCKS UP ON MEDICAL SUPPLIES FOR POSSIBLE EMERGENCY

So that there will be no dearth of first aid supplies in Sierra Madre, directors of the Red Cross at the monthly meeting Monday afternoon appropriated $150 for use of the Disaster Committee headed by Dr. W. B. Heagerty.

Dr. Heagerty and two other committee members yet to be appointed will use the entire amount for supplies which would otherwise have to be transported from the Red Cross supply depot at San Bernardino in an emergency. The appropriation was made at the request of Dr. Heagerty who stated, "We need more stretchers which can be made here—medical belts which also can be made locally, and contents for these belts. We also need padding for wooden splints which are now on hand and other first aid supplies."

"This stock will be of two classes, Accountables—issued to responsible personnel only, which must be accounted for and will in the main be on hand after this emergency is over; and Expendable—which would be used as needed for casualty treatment," said Dr. Heagerty. "Some of these supplies will probably be on hand also after the emergency is past and would be available for any disaster if properly stored for future use," he said.

DEMAND FOR BOOKS FOR THE FIGHTING FORCES GROWS; CAMPAIGN ENDS IN A WEEK

By Perley Poore Sheehan

Sierra Madre still has a week in which to build up its share in the National Victory Book Campaign. This is the campaign to furnish books to those who take the brunt of America's war effort—at home and abroad, in all branches of the service. Books may yet be rated as the vitamins of our national morale.

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS is glad to report that since its first announcement of the campaign two weeks ago the community has responded with its usual generosity. Miss Moore, who heads the Sierra Madre public library and was named by the national chairman to conduct the local campaign, has already forwarded an important consignment of books to the central committee in Los Angeles. The demand, however, continues unabated and promises to increase. The enormous dislocations of war have caused what may be called reading famine zones.

So more books are needed. As already mentioned, the books desired are such as you yourself would want if you were one of your country's fighting forces—or lodged in some new industrial district with no reading facilities whatsoever.

Books may be brought to the NEWS office or to the Sierra Madre Public Library. In Sierra Madre we all have books. Let's con our shelves for more volunteers—books that will give you a healthy sense of sacrifice when you pass them on, but books which are sure to give an even healthier sense of comradeship to those who receive them. It's getting late. Only one week more.

Red Cross Is Ready For Emergency

Reports At Annual Meeting Here Show Various Units Well Prepared

Total equipment of Sierra Madre to meet war time relief emergencies has been set as the goal of the local chapter of the Red Cross, and a report given by Mrs. E. R. Thompson at the annual meeting Monday evening revealed that this project is now well on the way. Mrs. Thompson, chairman of home hygiene, stated that the first aid closet will be completely equipped shortly and in addition to a good stock of regulation medical supplies, will contain sheets, pillow cases, towels, wash cloths and simple toiletries. Many of these supplies have been given by Mrs. R. A. Pratt and Miss Celia Barnes.

Dr. W. B. Heagerty gave a detailed statement of first aid work, showing how the Red Cross units will function in cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense in the event of an air raid. Medical units are now ready to go into action, he said, revealing further that the establishment of a Red Cross first aid depot at San Bernardino, lessens materially delays in obtaining first aid supplies.

For emergency housing and feeding, Mrs. H. C. Lieben stated that her committee was completely organized and ready to function at any time. This work would be carried on by the Red Cross only during the first emergency period, after which subsequent housing would be in charge of the Office of Civilian Defense.

Building Of Homes Still On Upgrade

Building is still up in Sierra Madre with permits for the first month of 1942 more than $13,000 ahead of the corresponding period for last year. During the month Wm. Lees, building inspector, issued permits totaling $36,333.

New home owners in Sierra Madre are John Marti, who is building a rambling Spanish type ranch house at 420 East Montecito avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stadler of Chicago, whose home will be at 430 Canyon avenue. Harold Spears has begun the construction on the first of three houses which he will build on North Sunnyside avenue.

Making extensive repairs or additions in January were C. W. Roberts of 145 East Grand View avenue who has added a large accessory building; Charles Walker who has built stables on his estate at 294 Manzanita avenue, and S. L. Pugh of Woodland drive.

Other homes now under construction are being built by W. T. Clement at 514 West Montecito avenue; W. B. Durham at 307 West Montecito and the Omart Investment Company at 208 Olivera place. A. E. Valencia is also building a five-room home at 654 Fairview avenue.

Asks Ordinance To Prohibit Dogs From Running At Large

Continuing investigation into the best way of relieving the city's stray animal problem, which is steadily increasing and occupying much of the time of police officers, Gordon McMillan has presented to the council information regarding the possibility of delegating the city's human work to the San Gabriel Valley Humane Society. This organization now has contracts with several other valley communities.

The plan would call for erection of a suitable animal shelter at the central pumping station, where animals would be impounded for three days, following which they would be taken to the pound; and adoption of an up-to-date ordinance which would include a provision prohibiting dogs from running at large, licensed or not.

The service would include patrol of the city for three hours, twice a week by two men and a vehicle, and handling of complaints and enforcing of all laws relating to cruelty.

McMillan stated that the stray animal situation is becoming acute, and may mean a possible menace to the health of the city unless controlled.

URGE LETTERS TO CONGRESS DEMANDING PROTECTION OF ANGELES FOREST

Citizens Asked To Write Hinshaw Pointing Out Danger If Air Raids Come

Sierra Madre Kiwanians who have never needed an "alert" warning to go into action when action is needed, this week placed themselves on record as sponsoring an all out effort to protect California forests for the duration. They responded with an unanimous vote to a request from their fellow member, Bruce McGill, Chief Air Raid Warden for the city, when he asked that each Kiwanian secure 10 hand written letters from Sierra Madre citizens to Carl Hinshaw, congressman for this district, asking that he expend every effort to obtain adequate funds for protection of the Angeles Forest. The requested letters will be brief, asking only that Mr. Hinshaw give every attention to all means of securing greatly needed appropriations for the U.S. Forest Service. They will be brought to the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club, which will be held at the grammar school next Tuesday.

At a board meeting of the organization Thursday evening, discussion will center around Mr. McGill's proposal that letters be sent to every other Kiwanian club in forest areas, from Santa Barbara to San Diego, asking them to take similar action so that Congress will realize that Southern Californians want protection for their forests.

To give additional impetus to this state-wide program to assure every possible safeguard of vital watersheds, Mr. McGill also issued an appeal to all Sierra Madreans to cooperate with the Kiwanis Club in sending personal letters to Mr. Hinshaw. Two local church groups, the Men's Club of the Congregational Church and the Concorso Club have already signified their support, and are now busy obtaining letters from their neighbors.

While information regarding the required needs and present activities of the Forest Service is restricted as "confidential," S. B. Shaw, regional forester for the state last week called upon all citizens for support of the Forest Service, as a vital defense agency. Spence Turner and the State Forest service seconded this appeal.

Name Women To Serve In Defense As Welfare Wardens

Carrying forward the Civilian Defense Council program of establishing welfare wardens in all of the air raid sectors in Sierra Madre, Mrs. Hazel Coney, first assistant to Thomas Reynolds, chief of welfare and consumer interest, this week completed organization of this defense unit with the exception of one appointee.

Women who have agreed to serve in this capacity are Mmes. A. H. Embree, Fred Griebenow, Sol Hurwit, Sol Kneel, Val Miller, P. J. Roach, Sam Haskins and Helen Norozny.

Meager Allowance Of Tires For County During February

The hundreds of thousands of owners of passenger cars in the county will be entitled to only 3090 tires and 2587 tubes during February, while the truck quota will be 3614 tires and 6198 tubes, Paul d'Orr, state tire rationer, said yesterday.

City Shows High Per Capita Ownership Of Automobiles

Sierra Madre citizens are well supplied with automobiles according to the purchase of auto tax stamps last week. Postmaster R. O. Calkin states that 1333 stamps were sold here, showing a high per capita ownership of cars.

Re-election Is Sought By Hinshaw

Congressman Announces His Candidacy On Leaving For Washington

Carl Hinshaw, Representative in Congress from the 11th district (now the 20th district) announced his candidacy for re-election to Congress before a capacity crowd at a luncheon given in his honor in Pasadena last Friday. His announcement was greeted with enthusiastic applause by more than 300 guests from all over the district.

"I have enjoyed my work in Washington immensely," said Hinshaw, "and I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for re-election. I have been and am on the job in the interest of my district, the State of California and the nation 12 months of the year. I hope the situation does not arise in which it might be necessary for me to conduct a campaign for re-election."

"I feel that my duty is at my post. If the situation does arise, however, I will have to leave such a campaign largely in the hands of my friends and those who are acquainted with my work in Washington."

"I am convinced," he said, "by my visit, that Southern California is alert. We are in no real danger from attack—because of the Intercept Command—but, we must be alert 24 hours every day of the year. This is a war to the death."

Registration Of Enemy Aliens Here Starts Off Light

Only a few Sierra Madre aliens mostly Japanese, made application for identification certificates at the postoffice this week, according to Postmaster R. O. Calkin. However, the registration of aliens in 1940 met with no resistance, complete cooperation of local Japanese, German and Italian nationals is expected. Everyone applying for an identification certificate is asked to bring three small photographs of the passport type. The registrants are being fingerprinted, and asked to fill out a questionnaire regarding family, occupation, relatives in foreign countries and whether any member of their family is serving with U.S. forces.

Speaking of this registration of all enemy aliens, Lt. General J. L. DeWitt, Commander of the Ninth Corps area said:

"I want to make it clear that in no sense will our issuance of identification certificates be a registration of a portion of the alien population. We are entirely satisfied with the results of the 1940 registration of aliens, and this new procedure will not duplicate it. We deem it essential, however, for the protection of loyal alien enemies as well as for our own national safety, to obtain supplementary information of all German, Italian and Japanese non-citizens and provide them with identification certificates bearing their photographs."

Paul Carter Now A Lieut. In The Navy

Commission Automatically Ends His Membership On City Council

Paul N. Carter, native Sierra Madrean and grandson of the city's founder, presented his resignation as a member of the city council Tuesday night to accept a commission as first Lieutenant with the U.S. Naval Reserves. He received his commission late last week and was ordered to active duty January 30.

His resignation was tabled and no action taken to replace him on the council. The resignation is also effective with the planning commission of which he became a member in 1938, and the Office for Civilian Defense, on which he headed the Information committee.

In his letter to the council Lieutenant Carter stated "While it will not be my privilege to assist further in carrying out the program which this council outlined to the citizens of Sierra Madre four years ago, the welfare and progress of the city will be foremost in my mind, and I sincerely hope for the completion of as much of our program as is possible under present war conditions."

Lieutenant Carter has had 20 years experience in shipping and trans-Pacific trade and is recognized as an authority on South Pacific and Australasian trade. He served as a director of the Foreign Trade Association of Southern California for three years and has been active in the shipping and foreign committees of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He has been given a leave of absence for the duration by the Matson Navigation Co., by which he has been employed.

During World War I, Lieut. Carter served two years with the 1st Division 6th Field Artillery, A.E.F., and for ten months with the U.S. Army of occupation in Germany.

Daylight Saving Begins At 2 o'Clock Sunday Morning

You probably won't be awake at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, the time designated for the beginning of daylight saving throughout the United States, so you'd better turn your clocks an hour ahead before you go to bed Saturday night. Daylight saving will be in effect until six months after the war ends, unless Congress should shorten the post war period.

All industries, citizens and governmental agencies, whether municipal, county or state, will be expected to comply with the daylight saving program, which will enable employed persons to reach home before dark, thus lessening the danger during possible air raids, and saving electrical energy for defense plants.

McArthurs Stand Means Much To A Sierra Madrean

While several residents of Sierra Madre saw service with the United States forces in the Philippines during the Spanish American war, for Thomas Mylott of 696 Woodland drive, the gallant resistance of General Douglas McArthur and the men of his command has special significance. In the war with Spain Mr. Mylott spent 27 months in the Philippines as a member of Battery G, 3rd U.S. Artillery, and during that time acted as bodyguard for General McArthur's father, General Arthur McArthur, to whom Manual Quezon surrendered his sword, and who later became Governor General of the Islands.

Offer 3 Hospital Wards For Use Of Raid Victims

Three emergency hospital wards have been established in Sierra Madre by the committee of nurses which met again last night at the city hall. Members of the group offering rooms or apartments in their homes for this purpose were Mrs. L. A. Rineau, Mrs. Lella Roberts, and Mrs. C. E. Rappolee. To equip these hospital wards assistance will be required from townspeople and Miss Marjorie Adams, secretary of the group, states that most needed articles are clean but not necessarily new sheets, pillow cases, blankets, towels and pillows. Anyone able to assist in this way is asked to call Mrs. Homer Glidden at 5029

YULE-BURRIS WEDDING IS LOVELY EVENT

Exquisitely gowned in white satin and marquisette, her delicate finger-tip veil held in place by a coronet of seed pearls, Miss Vivian Marie Yule, granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Jane Laage of 68 Mira Monte, marched down the aisle of the Congregational Church on the arm of her uncle, Steve Rower, Saturday night to become the bride of Robert Burris, son of Mrs. Percy C. Kortkamp of 32 Park avenue. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Frederick Groetsma.

The bride also wore a string of pearls presented to her by her brother, John Yule, who was unable to obtain leave to attend the wedding, and carried a bouquet of gardenias, bouvardia and hyacinth, designed by her grandmother. She was attended by her sister, Mary Ann Yule, who wore pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of tiny blue iris.

Misses Margaret Shepperd and Lois Lovell of San Diego, and Mrs. Edith Neuman of San Fernando, were bridesmaids and were dressed in blue taffeta gowns.

Glenn Burris acted as best man to his brother and sang two solos, "Ave Maria" and "Because." Gordon Neuman, Bud Stone and Perry Kortkamp were ushers. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the YWCA in Pasadena. Mr. and Mrs. Burris plan to make their home in Los Angeles.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF DOLORES KENNEDY

Dolores Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennedy of 44 Vista Circle drive, recently joined the parade of brides-to-be, with the announcement of her engagement to John A. Johnson Jr., of of Alhambra. No plans have been made for the wedding but it is expected to take place sometime in the near future.

ATTENDS WEDDING OF HER GRANDDAUGHTER

Mrs. Sarah America Curran and her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Chitry, returned this week from Santa Monica where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Curran's granddaughter, Gertrude May Curran, to Kenneth M. Flakus. The ceremony was performed in Saint Monica's Church by the Rev. Mr. Connelly. A reception for relatives and friends was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Curran.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR PAIR TO WED VALENTINES DAY

Among pre-nuptial parties honoring Miss Ruth Olwin and John Senour who are to be married on February 14, was a surprise miscellaneous household shower given Friday evening, January 23, by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baugh at their home in Pasadena. The list of guests included Messrs. and Misses Weston Senour, James Nicholson, Emmett Black, Donald Blanke, Walter Kendall, R. K. Thayer, Carlos Giuntini, Scott Hazelton, Elmer Hubbard, Kenneth Bush; Mrs. Martha Chapman and Barbara Neutzel, and Misses Betty Culler and Patty Line. ## Junior Women Will Act As Hostesses For Arcadia U.S.O.

The Sierra Madre Jr. Woman's Club has been asked to cooperate with the other Jr. Woman's clubs of the San Gabriel Valley in volunteering girls to act as hostesses for the Arcadia U.S.O. Eleanor Eastwood is chairman in charge for the combined Jr. Woman's clubs.

The Boy Scout log cabin in Arcadia has been offered to army officials as a hospitality center for service men stationed in or around Arcadia. It has been furnished by donations secured by the U.S.O. there. The cabin will be open each week for service men Monday through Friday from 5:30 p.m. to 10:45 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays 1 to 10 p.m. Many committees have been formed to take charge of the various activities planned.

At the Jr. Woman's meeting last Thursday, 14 girls volunteered to act as USO hostesses. The blanket club awarded blankets to Elsie Orme, Mrs. Waverly Pratt, Jackie Rutledge and Doris Melendy.

Reception To Honor Painter Of High Sierra Scenes

Albert Marshall, John Hopkins graduate who went into the High Sierra to regain his health and remained 14 years to paint some of the most distinctive pictures to be produced in that region, will be honored with a reception at the studio of Alfred J. Dewey, Friday evening.

This affair will take the place of a regular meeting of the Arts Guild, and will open an exhibition of water colors by Mr. Marshall, which will include many recent paintings of the Colorado desert.

Mr. Marshall is a former resident of Sierra Madre now living in Beverly Hills. He will explain his methods of painting and discuss outstanding features of the High Sierra.

Legion Membership Here Over Quota; Peak In The State

American Legion membership in the state this year exceeds last years figures by more than 7,000. State Commander Bob Garner told Southland legionnaires at a reception held in his honor at Altadena, January 23. Acting Commander Charles E. Foster presented the Department of California with membership cards for Sierra Madre Post 297, showing the quota here had been topped and received hearty congratulations from Commander Garner, and 18th district Commander Bill Houghton.

Those attending from Sierra Madre were Major P. B. Linville, Lloyd B. Welch, Vinton Hoegee, W. T. Clement, James Irvine and Charles E. Foster.

March Of Dimes Fund Receives $102

Sierra Madre's contribution toward control and eradication of infantile paralysis decreased this year, but was still almost twice the amount expected by the local chairman, Mrs. Ralph Cordry, who reports collections totaling $102.17.

Last year the subscriptions amounted to approximately $150. However at that time the nation was not engaged in collection of huge Red Cross funds and financing a war. Mrs. Cordry reports that the local response was excellent. During the drive she was assisted by a Sierra Madrean who has been a victim of infantile paralysis and is receiving treatment through the national foundation.

Farewell Dinner For Naval Recruit

Kenneth Allen, of 609 West Sierra Madre blvd., left Saturday morning for San Diego to take up active duty in the U.S. Naval Reserve. His bride of a few months plans to remain here for the present. A farewell dinner given in his honor last Thursday night by Mrs. Kenneth Pickett of 267 West Montecito, was also attended by Allen's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hays.

Auxiliary Police To Take First Aid Courses Here

Auxiliary members of the Sierra Madre police force, who have completed their training under the sheriff's office began their first aid instruction at the city hall Monday evening. These classes, which are under the direction of Dr. W. B. Heagerty, will continue each Monday and Tuesday evening for five weeks.

NEWSPAPERS IN CAMPS
There are now 226 camp newspapers in the various army camps in this country and its outposts, including Iceland.

Committee Named To Renew Cub Scouting; Ask Parents To Help

Renewal of Cub Scouting in Sierra Madre seemed likely this week when a committee to sponsor a Cub Pack was organized Tuesday evening. Headed by W. L. Thatcher of the Thatcher School for Boys at Ojai, now a resident of this city, the committee includes Earl Toms, leadership instructor; S. E. Peterson, exhibit chairman who will also be in charge of registration; Al Freeland, team chairman, and Clarence Huntsinger, project instructor.

This group will meet again next week with a representative from the San Gabriel Valley Valley Scout district and at that time will set a date for a meeting with parents of boys in the 9 to 11 age group. Only boys whose parents attend will be eligible for membership in the Cub Pack.

Sunday Delivery Of Milk To Cease As Wartime Measure

The discontinuance of milk deliveries on Sunday by the Crown City Dairy Company will go into effect Sunday, February 8th. This step is taken in the interest of national defense to conserve such vital materials as automotive equipment, rubber, gasoline and oil.

According to R. J. Whiteley, manager of the Crown City Dairy Company, lack of delivery on Sundays will not work hardships upon the housewives who will be asked to order double supply for over Sunday. All trucks will be supplied with the needed extra supplies, he said. In addition, it will give many employees in the company a day off for the opportunity to engage in defense activities.

The Crown City and other dairies of this area are first in the nation to adopt the policy of curtailment which has been endorsed by the National dairy association and will soon be in vogue throughout the country.

Garden Club To Hold Dinner Meeting Monday Evening

Regular monthly dinner meeting of the Sierra Madre Garden Club will be held at the Sierra Madre Hotel Cafe Monday evening, February 9, at 6:30 o'clock. Gordon Snyder will be guest speaker and will discuss flower arrangements by Laura Lee Burroughs which will be exhibited through color photographs. Reservations must be made before Saturday noon with Mrs. Frank Spencer at 4481.

New Used Car Lot Has Big Assortment Of Used Autos

Wife Here Informed Brig. Gen. Pierce Injured In Action In Philippines

Following receipt of a communique from General Douglas McArthur, the War Department sent word this week to Mrs. Clinton A. Pierce of 375 East Grand View avenue, that her husband, Brigadier General Pierce, had been slightly wounded in action in the Philippines.

On the recommendation of General McArthur, General Pierce was recently raised from the post of Colonel in the cavalry for gallantry in action. The appointment was confirmed by the Senate January 29.

Brigadier General Pierce was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., in 1894, and entered the Army as a corporal in the Illinois National Guard in 1916. He served on the Mexican border with the First Field Artillery, and in 1917 was commissioned a second lieutenant of cavalry, later becoming recognized as a crack cavalry officer. In 1923 he became National Guard instructor at Nashville, Tenn. His assignment to duty at Ft. Stotsenburg, about 60 miles from Manila, came in 1939. Realizing that trouble in the Orient was imminent, Mrs. Pierce and their daughter left the Islands a year ago and since that time have made their home here with Mrs. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William V. King of East Grand View avenue.

War Time Party Will Be Held By Altar Society Of St. Ritas

Mrs. S. C. McGilvray and daughter Roberta, returned this week to their home at 155½ North Baldwin avenue from a trip through the middle west.

Children's Beds Are Needed By Nurses

Sierra Madre nurses who have been organized by Dr. W. B. Heagerty, chairman of First Aid for the Civilian Defense Council, this week sent out an appeal for eight children's beds, which would be available for an emergency. The call was made by Mrs. C. E. Rappolee who may be reached by anyone having a bed to loan at Custer 5-5092.

Broadcast Poems Of
A Sierra Madrean
This Afternoon

Another Sierra Madrean will come into national prominence this afternoon when Ted Malone, poetry commentator of "Between the Bookends," will read a selection from Jarvis Barlow's recent book of poems "Once in an Orange Grove." The program originates in Radio City in a coast to coast broadcast at 3 p.m. P.S.T.

Mr. Barlow, for many years a resident of Sierra Madre, has written and published many fine poems, and his recently published collection has received favorable comment from critics. He is the former publisher of Pan magazine and is now a member of the Sierra Madre company of the State Guard.

Ballet Russe Wins
Many New Friends

Capacity audiences are witnessing the brilliant and spectacular repertoire of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, now appearing at Philharmonic Auditorium up to and including Saturday evening, February 14th under the combined management of S. Hurok and L. E. Behymer.

Three new ballets, "Labyrinth," "The Magic Swan" and "Saratoga" apart from a series of the most popular favorites given here in previous seasons are included in the repertoire.

Among the former favorites, presented here during the past seasons are, "Vienna—1814," "Gaité Parisienne," "Seventh Symphony," "Le Beau Danube," "Swan Lake," "Three Corners Hat," "Rouge et Noir," "Serenade," "The Nutcracker," "Sylphides," "Scheherazade," "The New Yorker" and "Prince Igor."

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo has reached its final perfection. New blood, new artistic power, new entertainment values have been infused. Under the growing influence of Leonide Massine's artistic direction this company of distinguished dancers will attract new devotees.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Beginning next week, for the second time in U.S. history, national daylight saving will be put into effect as a war measure. In 1917, after much country-wide disagreement, Congress voted national daylight saving, to take effect on March 31, 1918. Thus it was almost a full year from the war's outbreak on April 6, 1917, before the clocks were turned ahead. This time, daylight savings is begun just two months and one day after the declaration of war. Perhaps this difference in speed is a fair indication of the difference in tempo between the two world wars. Swift action, prompt decision—speed and more speed—seems the paramount demand of today's lightning war on wings of bombers and treads of tanks.

After the last war, in 1919, daylight saving was repealed by Congress over President Wilson's veto, and since then has been practiced only sectionally. As an emergency war measure, the present revival of daylight saving will be accepted unhesitatingly and without question by all Americans, no doubt. Its national operation will give the jury of public opinion ample data on which to determine whether, as a custom of normal peacetime, the merits of daylight saving would outweigh its demerits—or vice versa. In any case, the plan will be operating in the laboratory of national experience when you begin work next Monday. So don't forget to turn the alarm clock an hour ahead before you hit the hay Sunday night!

A WORD TO THE WISE

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

IN the thick of this Japanese trouble we keep thinking of our young friend Sinid. Who wasn't Japanese. He was Siamese—with a Chinese mother, whom he revered; just to mention her he'd shed a tear. Sinid was one of that year's batch of young aristocrats—this was a dozen years ago—Siam had sent to America for educational ends, academic and technical. As it happened, he was the only one of his kind allotted to New York and Columbia. And it also happened, through no merit of our own, that we'd been elected to serve as his particular friend and mentor. Sinid: a slim, shy, clear-eyed boy then about twenty; very good looking, in his Oriental way; nicely dressed, with perfect manners; turned out like any high-class youth—never slicked up but right and clean. And as to color—to use the hackneyed old comparison: the color—and also the texture—of old ivory.

THE comparison forces itself upon us because so often when we looked at him we remembered the slightly yellow keys of the family melodeon we fingered in our infancy. An association of ideas that seemed to have eased this young stranger into a quicker and warmer intimacy than might have been possible otherwise. For he was not at all forward or intrusive. His English was flawless and extensive; but—in the beginning at any rate—utilized with an extreme economy. Columbia was good to him. There were many Orientals at Columbia then. And the Rockefeller had established their International House near the campus where such could live without danger of conflict with any "color line." Well, Sinid came to see us one afternoon, with that ivory-tinted face of his practically gray; and he said something we've never been able to forget. It was a sort of dry sob. He said: "I'm black! I'm black!"

IT seems that he'd found life at the International House a trifle too sociable. He had no desire at all to make a lot of new friends, especially when these were mostly the sort of friends he'd left behind him in Bangkok. His government had sent him to America to learn, incidentally, about Americans—not about another mixed colony of expatriate Hindus, Japanese, Chinese, and sundry. What he wanted most of all, though, was solitude—time to study, to work. His time was limited. His mother was a widow. She would be waiting. So now he'd set out to find a room for himself—with a whole column of possibilities from the classified ads of the morning paper. He'd tried just three of these addresses—good ones, naturally, close to the university. Only three. And three rejections. Not tactful, either. "We don't take colored people!" "Whites only!" Or just a look. And when Sinid cried out that he was black we did feel that, with his usual economy of language, he'd epitomized a world-wide sin—and, especially, an American sin—which someday would have to be accounted for.

IT all came back to us again this past Sunday when we heard a broadcast by Upton Close, correctly rated, we believe, as an expert on Far Eastern affairs; a broadcast in which he referred to the insane and mannerless way we Americans—together with the "white" nationals generally (except the French, whom Professor Close did not mention)—refer to the "yellow" people with whom we are now at war. But how about the Chinese? Yellow also, but are they valiant! And MacArthur's Filipinos! They're yellow, too—yellow as our Siamese lad in New York—Sinid, who took honors at Columbia; and who later amazed the research men of the American Telephone Company by the way he caught on in their own difficult "white" technical world. Long ago Sinid went home. To become one of the head men in the Siamese government's telephone monopoly. We wonder if he wasn't among those Siamese gentlemen who lately greeted the invading Japanese as their yellow—or "black"—brethren! Willy Japan has been playing up our "color line," among our "yellow" allies, for all its ugly work.

STILL, we're not so terribly worried. Siam: Thailand—"Thai" ("ty"), the Free; Land of the Free! Once, some centuries ago, there had been another invasion of Siam or Thailand—Muang Thai, in Siamese—by the Japanese. Somewhat like this one—friendly, all for co-prosperity. But soon the Thai found that when the Japanese came in their freedom had fled; so that they organized a national massacre, in the course of which not one single Japanese was spared. The Siamese are Buddhists. Buddhists are sticklers for a cyclic return in human events—the theory familiar to the West in the phrase,

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

"THE RUB IN RUBBER" What, pray, are golfers going to do, since rubber balls are now taboo; some players more than likely could do just as well with balls of wood. We've noticed scads of golfers swing and never hit a bloomin' thing. Hot water bottles can't be had and won't that make some addicts mad; of course a brick responds to heat and might be used to warm cold feet. Report from Washington reveals they've turned thumbs down on rubber heels; a blow to men, who slightly tight, sneak home unnoticed late at night. New tires no longer may be bought, at best a most depressing thought; who knows, in some not distant day, we'll resurrect the one hoss shay. Yes, rubber goods are now taboo, from bathing caps to tennis shoe; but, one thing did escape by heck, they plumb forgot that rubber check.

LETTERS REVEAL POLITICAL DEAL BETWEEN HAM AND EGGS AND LABOR LEADERS

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

It has often been said that politics makes strange bedfellows—and California, at the moment, has new and disturbing evidence that the old adage still applies, despite the national emergency.

Even in face of the fact that America is engaged in a fierce fight for survival against treacherous and powerful enemies, with most of the American people willing to make every possible sacrifice in defense of their country, political deals are still being hatched and entered into by minority groups seeking to gain a selfish advantage at the expense of the majority.

Californians who have suffered severely from the vicious and un-American secondary boycott, need to take particular note of a recently revealed deal involving labor leaders and heads of the Ham and Eggs pension movement, whereby the two groups plan to combine forces against the public at large at the forthcoming general election.

The bill enacted by the Legislature banning the "hot cargo" practice and the use of secondary boycotts will appear in the referendum ballot at the November election—and labor leadership in California is apparently determined to defeat it at all costs, despite the destructive effect of strikes and labor tieups on the national defense program.

A new Ham and Eggs pension act is also scheduled to appear on the November ballot if sufficient initiative petition signatures are secured, despite the smashing defeat administered to the printing-press money scheme in 1939, and its previous defeat in 1938.

Seeking to engineer a vote swap between the two groups, Secretary Edward D. Vandeleur of the State Federation of Labor has addressed letters to AFL unions in California, and to the editors of labor newspapers affiliated with the AFL, opening out-lining plans for a common front during the campaign. Mr. Vandeleur's revealing letter to labor newspapers contains the following:

In view of the resolution unanimously adopted at our 42nd annual convention endorsing the proposed Payroll Guarantee Amendment (Ham and Eggs); and in view of the close cooperation that must exist between organized labor and pensions in order to defeat the Hot Cargo Bill and to adopt the Payroll Guarantee Amendment, may I now express to you the thanks of the California State Federation of Labor for any and all cooperation which your official publications may render by publishing news releases or other articles furnished to you each week by the Payroll Guarantee Association of 1731 North Highland Avenue, Hollywood. Anything you can do to help us show a million Ham and Eggs our appreciation of their officially promised support to defeat the Hot Cargo Slave Bill will be sincerely appreciated.

Even more to the point was the labor secretary's letter to the AFL unions. In this instance, he specifically urged the unions to get their members to sign petitions for the Ham and Eggs pension bill.

There can be no doubt that a deal to trade votes—a questionable practice at any time—has been entered into and that plans are going forward to put it into operation, but in this writer's opinion both Mr. Vandeleur and the Ham and Eggs are due for a rude awakening on election day.

With American boys losing their lives in battle for lack of supplies and equipment, labor boycotts, either primary or secondary, will find few supporters at the polls. And the Ham and Eggs pension movement, instead of gaining by the deal, is likely to find it a costly liability. It is good that the deal has been revealed.

"History repeats itself." Let's hope. But at the same time let's also watch ourselves. We'd better lay off this "white" and "yellow" stuff. It's dangerous. And, anyway, it isn't nice.

vealed; it will go far toward killing both proposals.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Educated to the philosophy of abundance, reared on the theory of wastefulness, millions of Americans in the war months ahead will learn something new to them about living prudently, carefully, sensibly. Considering the circumstances, the lesson will not hurt them a bit.

Just as most of the ills of men are brought about by the men themselves, so the various and bothersome wartime shortages, due to hit in the near future, are to some extent the results of consumers' own mismanagement.

The sugar shortage is no exception.

About a million tons of the nation's normal supply of six million came from the Philippines and almost as much from the big Hawaiian plants. Even a partial loss of those imports could not be ignored. But the foolish, frenzied buying of sugar by housewives who plan to hoard it away in their cupboards cannot be ignored either. It is as stupid as it is unpatriotic.

If starvation faced the country

Walt Disney had Snow White and her Seven Dwarfs and we have just seven questions here. You'll have to take the role of Snow White in today's Guess Again quiz. Place a mark in the space provided and check below for correct answers and rating.

(1) A phrenologist tells one's fortune by: (a) reading the palm; (b) bumps on the skull; (c) gazing into a crystal; (d) using playing cards.

(2) In England a person riding on a lift would be in a: (a) taxicab; (b) street car; (c) elevator; (d) subway.

(3) This famous picture was painted by: (a) Rembrandt; (b) Steward; (c) Petty; (d) Whistler.

(4) If a Hatfield met a McCoy there would be: (a) an airplane crash; (b) a football game; (c) a business deal; (d) some gun-play.

(5) The abbreviation R. S. V. P. stands for: (a) Red Seal of Venezuela Police; (b) Rescue Squad for Victoria Palace; (c) Respondez S'il Vous Plait; (d) Rush Signal Verifying Position.

(6) Allegro in music means: (a) a fast tempo; (b) a slow tempo; (c) turn the page; (d) take a solo.

(7) A person called "Scrooge" would be: (a) an athletic type; (b) a kindly old man; (c) a miserly old crank; (d) a conservative young business man.

"GUESS AGAIN" ANSWERS

1. Take a bumpy 20 points for (b).
2. Add 15 points for (c).
3. (d) nets you 15 more.
4. Easy, you said it, (d), 10 points.
5. (c) gives you 15 points.
6. Worth 15 more for (a).
7. 10 for (c).
YOUR RATING: 90-100, you're a good actor; 80-90, there's still room for improvement; 70-80, you'll do; 60-70, guess again.

as it does the stripped and devastated conquered countries of Europe, there would be some excuse for hoarding foodstuffs. A housewife who didn't would be derelict in her duty to protect her brood from death by hunger.

That is not the case here. The case is simply that every American will have to do with a little less of everything than he may be accustomed to. He is going to have to sacrifice a little, but he is not going to be asked to starve or even come close to it.

The plain fact is that hoarding creates false and early shortages; it forces some to go without, while others have more than is necessary.

Sugar ration cards are coming sooner than they might have if millions of hysterical housewives and other buyers hadn't suddenly decided to "lay in a supply" unnecessarily. The rationing will be extended as the need is apparent.

The farmer and producers of this country are not worried about their ability to feed one-fourth of the British population, as it appears will be necessary. Food surpluses and the potential production capacity here are adequate to the requirements, both here and abroad, according to the record. But in the months to come many things will be available in lesser quantities for private use.

Hoarding, which up to this moment has seemed nothing worse than being lucky enough to buy more than one actually needs, will be considered a wholly un-American act. Not as serious, to be sure, as looting bomb-out homes would be, or sabotaging war machinery—but just as unpatriotic.

What They Say --

Albert Emilie Davies, London air defense official, in San Francisco talk—"A blackout cannot hide a city, but it conceals its vital point. The enemy wants first to smash the city hall and broadcasting stations—the nerve centers—then wreck the water works and electric power stations."

W. D. Hareler, secretary California Retail Merchants and Grocers Association—"There will be plenty of sugar for everyone if normal buying is continued. We will have 50 percent of Hawaiian output, a great increase in domestic sugar, and the whole Cuban output."

Frank Kilsby, publisher San Francisco "Recorder"—"The year 1942 should show remarkable gains for all business that has the courage to expand."

The buying power of the average American factory worker is estimated at 60 percent higher than in 1914.

If the nations of this hemisphere did not achieve a united, uncompromising split with the Axis powers at the Rio conference, they nevertheless wrote a stirring chapter in the history of international cooperation. Considering the misunderstanding, ill-will, the differences in culture and tradition that have long existed among the nations represented, the Pan-American meeting has blazed a trail to further, and increasing, unity of action in this war and the peace to follow. One of Brazil's leading newspapers, the Jornal do Brasil, gave an eloquent statement of the tasks begun and yet to be accomplished by the free nations of the Western World when it declared "The battle of America has begun, and all the Americas are in it. It may last six months or six years. But that does not matter. What does matter is to win it—not for military glory, but for the privilege of carrying on the battle of peace in the future. Only the American nations can carry out this gigantic task, because America is the only continental political body free from all the intoxications of hate and of the imperialistic spirit which have transformed international life in other continents into a perpetual vigil of arms." The Americas have united to win the peace and the war.

The United States produces more electric power than the total of the next six or eight countries of the world combined. The smashing blows dealt the Japanese armada in the East Indies by America's flying fortresses is welcome news for more reasons than one. In addition to upsetting the clockwork of Japan's schedule of conquest, it has vividly shown the decisive part that air might is playing with its ability to bring striking power into action against the enemy ships over a wide area. Since we can produce planes at many times the rate that we can send battleships, cruisers, destroyers and small naval craft down the ways, America is not forced to wait upon the completion of a two-ocean navy before being in a position to deliver telling blows against the Japanese enemy. Where the construction of capital ships is a matter of years, that of a bomber is a matter of days. In that fact, and the steadily rising output of aircraft plants, there is evidence that as the months pass Japan will feel the ever mounting fury of our blows in the Far East.

The concrete used recently in a superhighway built in one single American state would have built four pyramids equal in size to the famous Cheops pyramid in Egypt.

The nation has been swept by a buying wave in the past week as housewives, struck by foolish fears, thronged retail stores and ran up January sales to record levels. But this Christmas-like shopping rush provides neither good news nor good business, even though sales in food stores alone, since the first of the year, have climbed 20 percent above this same period a year ago. Responsible spokesmen in the field have taken great pains to calm the fears of nervous housewives, for as a matter of fact, the only real shortages of essential foods, or of clothing and other necessities have been caused by the raids of panicky shoppers depleting merchants' stocks. With production of truck, field and orchard crops scheduled to reach history making totals this year, it's a wise housewife who declines to join the shopping stampede and refuses to stock her cupboard with hoarded goods.

Despite imprisonment and executions, the cause of the Free French continues unabated on French soil. The shooting of another German in Paris will not loosen the Nazi grip on France today, but it shows the unquenchable spirit lives which will shatter that grip on the morrow!

Nine members of the Sierra Madre Camp Fire Girls will enjoy a weekend trip to Wasewagan as a result of their work in the recent doughnut drive during which they sold 40 dozen each. They are Gertrude Oakley, Sylvia Young, Virginia Hosford, Juanita Guardia and Ruth McClelland, from Mrs. Lewis McClelland's group; Phyllis Young, Joan Maltby and Nancy Pierson of Miss Adele Davidson's group, and Jean Maltby, a member of Mrs. C. Lauren Maltby's group. Proceeds from the 549 dozen doughnuts sold by the girls will be used for their summer camp.

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

Someone asked me the other day if I knew a good way to say "No" to people without hurting their feelings. It seems as if that word is one of the most difficult in the English language. Some people are simply not gifted with the ability to say "no" as if they meant it, while others of us put such rude emphasis in our utterance that we sometimes feel ashamed of the effect created. In the long run, however, it's much easier to say a blunt "no" than it is to think up an odd assortment of excuses which invariably leave one behind the eight-ball. All of which, plus a lot more sage advice, I told my friend. It made a deep impression on her but she still can't say no.

Emile Smith is worse than any housewife I've ever seen. He moves all the counters and shelves in the newstand at least twice a month and never seems quite satisfied with the effect. At least he is not a creature of habit... unless the constant moving of furniture falls under that category.

There has been much merriment around town lately over Bruce McGill's unique method of squelching incendiary bombs. He stumbled on the method quite by accident when he couldn't find a water pistol in town, the only drawback being that the invention is apt to work only when he wants the bombs to burn brightly. Anyway, we'll give him credit for an ingenious mind.

A woman doctor in Kansas City, Missouri, has really gone "all out for defense." Patients waiting to see her no longer waste time reading year-old magazines, but pick up one the eight pair of knitting needles and yarn on the reception desk and go to work for the Red Cross.

"Senator" Ingraham was on the soap-box again last week... this time giving a lecture on the art of raising boys properly, effectively and harmoniously. Everything was very serious and his audience was paying the strictest attention until he suddenly stopped, looked around the table and said, "You know, I'm really an expert on the subject, I must have raised at least seven in my lifetime."

Animal Clinic At Monrovia Soon To Be Greatly Enlarged

Acting on a communication from the Memorial Free Clinic, located on Mountain avenue opposite Recreation Park, Monrovia, for treatment of animals, the Monrovia council last night instructed City Attorney Paul Garber, to prepare a new five year lease which will also provide for a larger amount of ground surrounding the building.

This action is in accordance with the wishes of Miss H. Gertrude Bird of Boston, founder of the clinic, who arrived in Monrovia recently and after making an inspection and viewing the work carried on up to this time, announced her desire to make improvements for better service and to reach a greater number of people in this part of the county.

In the interest of extending the use of this institution, Miss Bird stated: "Results accomplished at the clinic indicate to me that in order to be of greater service to the residents of Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Arcadia and other surrounding communities, the days for treatment should be increased and I have arranged for the clinic to be open for business from 4 to 5 p.m. each day, Monday to Friday inclusive, of each week. I am also having the clinic building enlarged to provide better facilities to handle the increased number of cases, I anticipate will be brought in for treatment. It is my ambition to place the Clinic on a basis which will give ample service for those people who are unable to pay for the services of a veterinarian."

OBITUARY

WM. PORTERFIELD

Funeral services were conducted recently in Long Beach for William Porterfield, 80, who passed away at his home at the head of Mt. Trail avenue, following an illness of two years.

Mr. Porterfield was born in Kearney, Mo., in 1862 but came to California approximately 40 years ago. He established his residence in Long Beach and became manager for several telephone companies as telephone service was developed in communities throughout the state. He was also manager of the U. S. Long Distance lines. Eight years ago he came to Sierra Madre, and since that time has spent most of his time here.

Mr. Porterfield is survived by two brothers, Walter Lowrie Porterfield of Long Beach and A. R. Porterfield of 214 West Carter avenue; and three sisters, Mrs. Grace D. Starr, Mrs. Mae D. Lisenby and Miss Daisy Porterfield, all of Long Beach.

By One of the Boys

Since Bob Orme has become a member of the auxiliary firemen his Trail Inn has been very popular with firemen. But we wouldn't want him to be spoiled, nor to think that he was the only attraction at the "Inn," so let's let him in on a secret. A number of the boys enjoy the chicken that is cooked by the good looking girls in the kitchen and he is temporarily forgotten when his charming little wife Thelma appears. Also spreading fried chicken on a free scale to certain boys will not keep them away either.

Members of the auxiliary force as well as some of the Active men will continue a course in first aid for five or six weeks. Our own first aid captain will be the instructor. Joe Swanson has always been the reliable source of the fire department's first aid work. In order that one may be adept, this work must be practiced regularly or the important things to know will soon be forgotten. The auxiliary police force created for Civil Defense will also practice first aid at this course.

The Effect of War on Our Loan Policy

With the coming of war, the loan policy of America's banks everywhere shifted to a wartime basis.

This does not mean that war and defense loans are the only kind that banks will make. But it does mean that loans which will contribute to Victory will have preference.

We will continue lending for non-defense purposes whenever such loans are sound and invite you to apply when you wish credit.

PUBLIC NOTICE

As a matter of public interest and economy,
Sunday milk deliveries will be discontinued
EFFECTIVE FEBRUARY 8th, 1942

THIS STEP IS BEING TAKEN FOR A 2-FOLD PURPOSE:

1. To conserve such vital materials as automotive equipment, gasoline, oil and RUBBER, in the interest of national defense.
2. To improve working conditions of the milkmen, who under the six-day delivery, will be able to enjoy Sundays with their families at church and in recreation like other folks.

The elimination of Sunday milk deliveries, undertaken only after receiving the approval of the Health department and the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups, need work no hardship on our customers.

Modern methods of production and processing employed by the undersigned milk company, coupled with present day efficient home refrigeration, make it perfectly practicable for the home maker to keep two days' supply of milk on hand.

Milk trucks on Saturdays will carry ample supplies so that everyone may obtain sufficient dairy products for Sunday. Your milkman will leave you a more detailed explanation and a convenient Saturday order blank.

We earnestly solicit your cooperation in this program.

Here are four simple safety rules for flying kites. They will not detract from your fun. Please read them carefully and remember to follow them every time you fly your kite.

1. Fly your kite in an open field, away from power lines.
  2. Never use wire, tinsel or metallic string.
  3. Be sure the cord is perfectly dry.
  4. If your kite catches in a power line, let go. Don't pull!
- Phone the company owning the line and a lineman will come to get your kite for you.

Woman's Society Of Bethany Church Elects Officers

The Woman's Bible Class of Bethany Church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. D. McAndrew of 311 Auburn avenue, for the annual election of officers. Mrs. McAndrew was elected president; Mrs. W. A. Evans, vice-president; Miss Minerva Thompson, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Stilson, corresponding secretary.

At the close of the business session refreshments were served by Agnes McAndrew and Jean Weeks.

INDIANS BUY BONDS

Euchee and Creek Indians of Oklahoma in a special assembly in the inter-tribal council have voted to spend $400,000 for defense bonds. They voted unanimously to turn over the money, now on deposit in Washington, to the government.

As It Appears To me

Could it be—could it POSSIBLY be, that this column has been the cause of increased woe for Uncle Sam's local mail Carrier No. 1, Bill Jenkins? I do not understand how such a thing could have happened—but herewith publish a recent note received by the column.

Quote—"My Dear Friend Margaret: (Humm! I wonder?) Do you think you could arrange your affairs so that you could make another trip to the Red Cross Blood Bank this p.m.? You see, darling" unquote (for all of you who don't know, this former term of endearment is now used by many of the younger generation when they wish to express super sarcasm) "I have a desire to slit that beautiful throat of yours and I hate to see all that precious fluid wasted. You have innocently (?) exposed me to the derisive jibes, and ribald remarks of the darndest wolf pack in captivity, namely, my fellow workers. Ah, how could such a lovely flower cause me such a rash?***** You might inform any damsels or dowagers concerned, that my smile is a futile gesture to exhibit my Pasadena personality, and is not meant for the ulterior purpose of ensnaring unsuspecting femmes. Unless shall we discreetly say, they are seeking adventure?..." What do you suppose could have inspired a note of this kind, and why does Bill greet me with, "Good morning, Lucretia"? I'm really worried.

Once again the acacia baylanas are in bloom, this morning the flowering quince were gay in the H. C. Parker garden and just now Pat Harlan called to tell me that a huge flock of geese has just flown over, so evidently spring is running toward us, but where are the winter rains? A dry season isn't particularly desirable just now. A large flock of buzzards has also been seen overhead within the last few days, an annual occurrence, and Pat Harlan wonders why... so do I. Does anyone know, and if so will you contribute toward our education—please?

Well the buzzards and the geese saved me from going poetic, had it not been for them I would probably have knee deep in buttercups by this time—and you would have been bored in consequence. However, even though all our thoughts are overshadowed by war, it is good to take time out for snatches of joy when we can.

RIGHT KIND OF FOOD TO PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART IN WINNING WAR, KIWANIS TOLD

"Whether it be children, workers or soldiers, the first step toward a happy confident attitude is an abundant supply of the right kind of food, for on a foundation of good food, properly prepared, we can build almost anything, without it we can build nothing," declared Fred Larkcom, of the production department of the Lucerne Dairy, when he spoke on "Nutrition in National Defense" at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday.

Stating that to respond well under strain people must be well nourished—a term not to be confused with being well fed—Mr. Larkcom said, "We have always had the impression that with plenty of food on the table we have been well nourished, however it has been proven by professional nutritionists that a full stomach doesn't necessarily mean being well nourished."

He spoke of the startling fact which confronted Americans when physicians began to examine selectees and found 40 percent of the nation's young men disqualified through physical disability.

"Perhaps proper feeding during childhood would have enabled a high percentage of those rejected to pass the physical examination," he said.

Placing war time feeding among the most vital contributions which women can make toward ultimate victory, Mr. Larkcom said, "We are shifting our agriculture more and more toward producing those foods which are rich in vitamins, minerals, and the right kind of proteins. We have started producing more of these foods, such as milk, eggs, tomatoes, dried beans and pork, so that we may have an abundance not only for ourselves but for Britain to meet every possible contingency. We are using the cow, the hen, and the pig, to extract from our huge supplies of corn stored in the ever normal granary the vitamin B and A, the good minerals and the proteins which will furnish the nervous energy to drive us through to victory."

Buys Victory Bonds As Nest Eggs For Grandchildren

Doing her part to assure Victory for Uncle Sam, Mrs. Edith Askew last week purchased a $750 Defense bond. Mrs. Askew is also the owner of several other bonds of smaller denomination and has presented bonds as birthday presents to relatives.

Also taking steps toward establishing a nest egg for his grandchildren while at the same time supporting his country, Thomas Mylott is buying several bonds of $25 denomination.

BAUXITE DEPOSITS

A deposit of bauxite is reported to have been recently discovered on the Isle of Pines, Cuba, the Department of Commerce says.

Ask City To Pay For Loss Of Pedigreed Dog Killed By Truck

Charging that a city owned truck ran over and killed their pedigreed wire haired fox terrier on the morning of January 17, and that the occupants of the truck, Hiram Embree and Vernon Udell, showed "negligence and calous indifference," the John Buchan family this week filed a letter with the city asking for $50 damages. The communication has been referred to Gordon McMillan, chief of police, for investigation.

Tuesday evening the council instructed Wm. Schwartz, assistant city engineer, to open a roadway to a width of 28 feet on Park between Mariposa and Ramona avenues, and also advised him as purchasing agent to secure 1000 feet of six-inch water pipe from the Crane Co. at 63 cents per foot.

Order Affects All Draftees Who Plan To Join The Navy

Enlistment officers in charge of the U.S. Navy recruiting station in Pasadena are issuing a form to all applicants for enlistment in the Navy certifying that they have received no notice to report for induction or Army physical examination.

In order to enlist in the Navy or Naval reserve potential draftees are informed that they must be actually enlisted before an order is received or mailed to report for induction or Army physical examination, and that should such an order be mailed while the applicant is waiting for actual enlistment it will be his duty to immediately inform his Navy recruiting officer.

FORMER FRANCES LACEY HAS BABY DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dawson of El Paso, Texas, are the parents of a baby girl born Friday, January 10, in El Paso. She has been named Frances Carolyn. Mrs. Dawson is the former Frances Lacey of Sierra Madre. Her mother, Mrs. P. E. Lacey of 136 East Highland, left Wednesday for El Paso for a three month visit with her daughters, Margaret and Birda Lacey and Mrs. Dawson.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF CHARLES DICKENS

A special program has been planned for the meeting of the Dickens Fellowship group which will be held today at the home of Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard of 121 East Alegria, in honor of the 130th birthday anniversary of Charles Dickens.

DEBUNKED

The liquid found inside a coconut is not the milk, but rather a water than can be used for drinking. Coconut milk is obtained from crushing the pulp and extracting the milky substance.

How to Distinguish Nationality of Aircraft

Civilian air raid spotters will have no difficulty distinguishing Axis planes from those of the United Nations if they memorize the markings illustrated above. American and British planes have designs of red, white and blue, and Russia has a red star. Watchers on the southern border occasionally may see the red triangle of Mexico. Axis raiders are easily spotted through the familiar black cross and swastika of Germany, the round red rising sun emblem of Japan and the Roman fasces insignia borne by Italian planes.

Increased Use Of Bicycles Brings Note Of Warning

A sharp increase in the use of bicycles throughout California brought warnings today from the Department of Motor Vehicles of added exposure to traffic hazards of bicycle riders. It says reports indicate many persons have forsaken their autos and taken up cycling since tire and car rationing started.

Cyclists were urged to remember they are subject to all traffic laws and reminded that bicycles must have a headlamp visible at least 300 feet and red tail light or reflector visible at least 200 feet. Motorists were urged to keep a sharp lookout for bicycle riders, particularly children, and to reduce their speed when overtaking or passing bicycles.

Records show that bicycles were involved in 1844 deaths or injury collisions with motor cars during 1941.

REDUCES RECOIL

An attachment for rifle and machine gun barrels invented by a Wisconsin man reduces the recoil to a scarcely felt minimum.

Income Tax Returns May Be Filed In Nearby Cities

Residents of Sierra Madre and vicinity will be afforded an opportunity to file their 1941 federal income tax returns locally as the result of arrangements announced by Nat Rogan, collector of internal revenue.

Temporary offices of internal revenue service will be open in the Federal bldg., Pasadena, from February 2 to March 16. Other offices to service this neighborhood will be open in the Chamber of Commerce, Monrovia, February 2, 3, 4, and the city hall, Alhambra, March 2 to 16. All offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on week days and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

Deputy collectors will acknowledge signatures at no charge. They will advise taxpayers concerning tax forms but will not execute the forms for the taxpayers. They will accept payments made by personal check or money order. No cash will be taken. Taxes may be paid in full, semi-annual, or in quarterly installments.

Over half of the United States grapefruit crop went to the canneries in 1941.

R. C. Lewis Director Of Independent Bankers Assn.

H. C. Dolde, vice president of the Whittier National Trust and Savings Bank, has been elected president of the Independent Bankers Association of Southern California, it was announced yesterday. Robert H. Bolman, assistant vice president of the Union Bank and Trust Company was elected vice president and G. B. Kellogg, cashier of the First State Bank of Rosemead, secretary.

R. C. Lewis, president of Sierra Madre Savings Bank, was continued as a member of the board of directors.

Bode Promoted To Captain; Moved To The Presidio

Promotion from the rank of First Lieutenant to Captain has been announced for Arnold G. Bode, son of Dean and Mrs. Arnold G. Bode of 410 West Montecito. Captain Bode who is with the U.S. Army medical corps has been transferred from Santa Ana to the Presidio at Monterey.

Fly Kites Safely; Follow These Rules

Keep kites away from electric lines—that is the advice of the Southern California Edison Company to boys and girls, according to Walter P. Shaffer, manager for the company in this territory. "The following safety rules do not detract from the fun of flying kites and may prevent accidents," Mr. Shaffer said. "Parents, teachers and leaders of juvenile organizations are urged to emphasize these rules to children, so that the spring season may be free of hazards."

"1—Fly kites only in open fields away from electric lines. Choose the spot carefully, and remember that the kite string travels at an angle and may pass over lines some distance away."

"2—Use fabric cord for a kite string. Never use wire, tinsel or cord with metal strands. If a cord has become damp from rain or fog, let it dry thoroughly before using it."

"3—If a kite or string catch in an electric line—let go immediately! Do not pull it, or climb a pole to bring it down. Telephone the electric, telephone or street railway company to which the line belongs, and a lineman with proper equipment will come to take down the kite with the least possible damage to it and the maximum safety to its owner."

TRACTORS POPULAR

American farmers employ more than a million and a half tractors, according to the Department of Commerce.

Dean Bode's Latest Hymn Published; First Copies Here

First copies of "The Spire of Oxford," a song written by Dean Arnold G. H. Bode, rector emeritus, organist and choir director of the Church of the Ascension, arrived here yesterday from the Wm. A. Pond publishing company of New Jersey. Lyrics are from a poem by Winifred Letts, British poet, whose work has been brought out in this country by W. P. Dutton.

Other songs written by Dean Bode and published by Wm. Pond are, "Thy Peace Shall Be As a River," "A Russian Hymn to the Trinity," "God of Our Fathers" and "Benedictus es Domine."
